MING QING YANJIU, founded in 1992, is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated primarily to advanced studies of pre-modern China. This journal provides a forum for scholars from a variety of fields related to late imperial and early republican period that aim to have a cross-disciplinary discourse. Contributions in sociology, literature, psychology, anthropology, history, geography, linguistics, semiotics, political science, and philosophy, as well as book reviews are welcome.

We invite paper submissions of up to 10.000 words for our special issue on “Collecting, Collections, and Collectors” that deal with any kind of collecting in Late Imperial China. Papers may address (but are by no means limited to) the following topics:

- the historical, social, and cultural aspects of collecting
- collecting and antiquarianism/collecting as scholarship
- catalogues and collecting/connoisseurial manuals
- the practice of collecting
- the business of collecting
- particular collectors and/or collections
- collecting networks
- historical changes in collecting
- consumerism and collecting
- specific types of collectibles
- questions of value/authenticity of collectibles

Please also submit a short abstract (300 words max.) of your paper.
