

International Workshop
"Mapping Taiwan Teaching – Teaching Taiwan in Script, Speech and Performance"

Trier University, November 7th–9th

The Taiwan as a Pioneer (TAP) project at Trier University, Germany, is excited to announce a workshop for a diverse group of lecturers about Taiwan, including Ph.D. candidates, postdocs, and established scholars. The workshop, scheduled from 7 to 9 November 2024, will be conducted in English, Chinese, German, and Taiwanese. We aim to delve into Taiwan-related class content subjects, develop teaching recommendations, and foster connections among Taiwan-related lecturers.

We are open to receiving paper submissions on various topics, focusing on teaching Taiwanese languages, culture, and related fields. The questions addressed in the presentations of this workshop can be theoretical as well as practical ones, such as:

- important aspects of Taiwanese language and culture for intercultural teaching of German- or English-speaking students
- influence of Taiwan's different languages (Mandarin, Taiwanese Southern Min & Hakka, Austronesian languages) on language and especially culture classes
- application of literature, films, songs, podcasts, etc. for teaching

This established format of the workshop provides participants with the opportunity to:

- present their knowledge and methods to an international audience
- engage in a scholarly exchange on Taiwan-related teaching material and methods
- join the TAP network, which aims at gathering and connecting Taiwan-related researchers
- get to know Trier, the oldest city in Germany

TAP will cover travel expenses and accommodation of accepted speakers:

Participants from Germany (travel fees up to 200 EUR and two nights at 80 EUR)

Participants from Europe (travel fees up to 500 EUR and two nights at 80 EUR)

Participants from Asia (travel fees up to 1,500 EUR and two nights at 80 EUR)

To apply, please send your CV and an abstract of your presentation (max 250 words) until 12 September 2024 to:

Dr. Thomas Fliß

TAP project postdoc at Trier University

Mail: tap@uni-trier.de