Workshop – Exploring the Rule of Law in Asia: Global Perspectives, Regional Dynamics, and China’s Impact

Date: April 8, 2025

Organiser: Centre for East and South-East Asian Studies

The rule of law is a core principle endorsed by the United Nations, emphasising accountability, equality before the law, independent adjudication, and alignment with international human rights norms. It plays a crucial role in ensuring peace, security, political stability, economic development, and the protection of fundamental rights and freedoms.

This workshop will examine how the concept of the rule of law resonates—or fails to resonate—in selected Asian countries and explore whether and how China’s approach influences legal and governance frameworks beyond its borders.
